Recently started playing again a year later and bought an AoM extension. So far so good, got my apostate to 67, but the man of Crown Hill and Steelcap areas is super confusing and I'm spinning my wheels and just walking endlessly. I've seen links to infestation and Fleshworks areas, but still can't find this side of the search or these areas. I saw Factory Entrance, which sealed ethereal and flesh-wrapped Enclave in Crown Hill, but couldn't get into either. Would love a few pointer cards or if I need to do something else before that. Thank you! To open the way in the infestation/Fleshworks, you need to destroy the exhaust holes located around Crown Hill. There's a search related to this when you reach the area. I've ticked the vents if you can't find them. The way forward is in the upper right direction. Thanks, thought I'd done it already - or should they be cleaned every time you restart the game? Thank you. Temujin: Thank you, thought I made those already - or should they be cleaned every time you restart the game? Thank you. No, but I think you need to clear all three in the same game in order to open the fleshworks you definitely have to do it only once, which should also work if you do it through a session (like open 2 in one session and a third in the second session). If you can't access Fleshworks after that, double check that the quest has been completed. If it is still active, you can see which vents you still need to open. Thanks, I had to open all 3 air vents and then I could go into the infestation I killed my other you and then Theo dude in the heart and false Krieg ... not sure if there's anything else, or I missed the final boss quest item also out there on a separate level. Assuming you met him, you must be made. Thank you, I think I'm used to D3 holding my hand and yelling at me what I did I've already beaten a big villain at the end. Good at grinding out multiple levels, get my dedication points and get me some more Purple Home Category frequently asked questions/Guidelines for Privacy Policy Services So this is it. the last chapter guys!!! The final areas to explore and looks like the last boss to kill! STEELCAP DISTRICT, MALMUT HARBOR, CARNIVOROUS PLANTS, SANCTUARY FLESH! Liked? Take a second to support Angry Roleplayer at Patreon! Is this the end of the expansion? I don't have any more quests. From Grim Dawn Wiki this is a small act of 6 side quest offered by Rivia Hall in the Steelcap District after completing the Council spear quest. Rivia's mother and daughters were taken by ethereal when the Candle District was attacked. The captured women, both alive and dead, were taken to Crown Hill, which means they are probably in Fleshworks. Rivia doesn't know if they're alive or not, and asks find them. made it to the sewer in time, especially women. Ethereals seem to have shown a strange interest in women in particular. She believes that some of them can still survive in the ethereal flesh. She realizes that what she asks you to do is incredibly dangerous, but she wants to save these women and thinks you're the only one who could.
